Leadership through Sports, Culture, and Language

Sealaska Heritage Institute presents the Latseen Hoop Camp - an innovative program designed to integrate the Tlingit language into an intensive week of basketball camp. The program creates a fun and supportive learning environment where students can participate in a basketball camp that emphasizes fundamental skills, language acquisition, character development, teamwork, and cultural heritage.

Offensive and defensive fundamental basketball skills and concepts are at the core of this program. Fun and competitive camp games are utilized to promote teamwork, fundamentals, and language development.

Campers should bring a lunch and snack everyday and wear basketball shoes, socks, gym shorts, and a t-shirt. Campers will receive a camp t-shirt, workbook, player evaluation and basketball for participating all week.
