

Raven Writes: Summer Writing Seminar

Receive professional development in best practices for writing instruction, culturally responsive teaching strategies, and culturally relevant writing curriculum.

Sealaska Heritage is offering a Summer Writing Seminar for Juneau School District (JSD) elementary teachers. Teachers will develop lesson plans integrating the professional development topics and work directly with students for one hour each afternoon. Teachers that participate in the Seminar will have opportunities for follow up training next school year and to work closely with a JSD Raven Writes writing coach to implement culturally relevant and responsive writing curriculum based on best practices.

A $3,000 stipend will be paid to each teacher that satisfactorily completes the Seminar. Teachers will also have an option to take the Seminar for 3 credit hours through University of Alaska Southeast. There will be reading assignments and reflections as homework.

Primary Seminar for K-2 Teachers, July 1-15*
Intermediate Seminar for 3-5 Teachers, July 18-29

Time: 8:30 am-3 pm

Location: Sít' Eetí Shaanáx – Glacier Valley Elementary

*Monday, July 4 is a holiday

Register today:

bit.ly/RavenWrites-SWS

Raven Writes is a Sealaska Heritage education program funded by the US Department of Education.

Raven Writes: Summer Writing Seminar is offered through a partnership with SERRC and the Juneau School District.

